ROI-focused Performance Marketing campaigns for quick results on Google, and Social Media- Instagram, LinkedIn, Twitter, Facebook, Snap chat and more

TP1 : WEBSITE FOR BUSINESS

Customers are increasingly depending on the online medium for various reasons such as finding a company, searching for information, using a service, buying a product, and for many other purposes. Hence, nowadays, a good website has become an unavoidable basic necessity of a business. It isn't an option or luxury, but a basic need and an inevitable investment for any business.

At the same time, a Website is not just an 'online brochure'. It is a strategic business tool to influence customers and develop business.

A website is a very active marketing tool and business generator for any type of business including B2B or industrial products. A Website can create long-term as well as short-term businesses, according to the objectives set by the Company.

A website can be an effective tool to establish a brand. It also can be a powerful platform for the strategic achievement of business goals in sales, marketing, HR, and more.

Further, it can be an influential, central platform for all the digital marketing activities including targeting or retargeting of customers, expansion of customer base, etc. cost-effectively.

In short, in this digital era, a Website of a Company is an important strategic point for business upgrowth, if planned rightly.

TP2 : SOCIAL MEDIA TOUCH-POINTS

Social media pages are vital for establishing direct and interactive connections with your audience. These platforms allow you to engage with customers in real-time, share updates, and build a community around your brand. Through targeted content and strategic campaigns, social media can significantly boost brand awareness, drive traffic to your website, and increase customer loyalty. Moreover, social media insights provide valuable data on customer preferences and behavior, helping you tailor your marketing strategies more effectively. By actively managing your social media presence, you can foster meaningful relationships with your audience, enhancing your brand's visibility and reputation.

TP3 : GOOGLE BUSINESS PROFILE

A Google Business Profile is crucial for local SEO and online visibility, especially for businesses that rely on local customers. This profile ensures your business appears in local search results and Google Maps, making it easier for potential customers to find and contact you. A well-optimized Google Business Profile includes accurate information about your business hours, location, services, and customer reviews, which can influence potential customers' decisions. It also enhances your online credibility and provides insights into how customers interact with your business online. Having a comprehensive and updated Google Business Profile can drive more local traffic to your website and physical location, ultimately boosting sales and customer engagement.

Incorporating these three digital touch points into your strategy will ensure a comprehensive and effective online presence, for phase-2 marketing driving growth for your business.
